Now those who treat you will have faster access to your medical records at the hospital

This provides a better basis for providing you with safe and correct health care.

Hospitals share medical records with other healthcare personnel in what is known as the summary care record.

At Helsenorge you can restrict who can access the documents in your summary care record.

Find out more here

HELSE norge

– your health online